In Your Dreams!

"When we are asleep in this world, we are awake in another." -- Salvador Dali

And that world is multifaceted: Dreams can be beautiful, terrifying, inspiring, and even manifest themselves as a coping mechanism or wish-fulfillment. Share your dreams with us in whatever media suits your dream best. Much like a dream remembered, this theme is open to interpretation and all media is welcome. Your title may be indicative of your dream's meaning or source or evade the viewer, much like a dream that escapes upon awakening.

**You can include a brief description of your "dream".*

Please submit up to 2 original art entries in for consideration to diane@rrcarts.com by January 10th. Contact the gallery for more information, or assistance with participation.
